VOLUME 13—NUMBER 19

Recent Operations

By Paul Rardin

Sometimes I wish I owned a lumber yard. They're busy these days while the major portion of other business in the Lake region mark time awaiting the arrival of another busy farming season. This week I drove by several lumber yards and there was a unusual amount of activity around all of them. Proprietors of them say that business has stepped up since the close of the farming season, and that Lake region folks have been repairing and rebuilding during the slack summer months. One lumber yard even reported an increase in business of more than 50% since the last car of lumber went north.

Then at other times I wish owned a drug store. Wouldn't it be great on afternoons like the ones we've had for a couple of weeks just to park yourself before the soda fountain and drink that Coca Cola until you'd have a fill? Or a big martini with cream, topped with whipped cream and a cherry would finish out the day. Or a cold one with a slice of lemon and a dash of salt. These stores are equipped with great big electric fans and those who seek relief from the heat find the atmosphere as cool as a cucumber. The building itself has been air-conditioned.

Then at other times I wish I owned a grocery store. I'd like to see a grocery store because they close on Thursday afternoon and all the employees have an opportunity to go fishing. Thursday afternoon is an ideal time for fishing and country newspapers usually find something to do on that particular day.

There are a couple of railroad tracks in the Lake region. One of them is the Lake and Western. The smoothest things you've ever seen in their line. A crew of the State Road department was working on it this week and there isn't a bump when you go over them. It's a piece of work and worthy of commendation.

Dick Gibbons, manager of the United States Sugar Cane Testing station in Canal Point, added new lures to his crown Sunday afternoon when he accompanied what every good golfer hopes for—a hole-in-one. Dick was playing with Earl Williams, Jim Barrett and E. G. Kilpatrick. The ball landed on 127 yards. Naturally he tried to act nonchalant but when he made an effort to keep his face from showing that he was someone had to steady the pencil for him.

I've got a lot of white hairs and most of them were caused by worrying about something that never happened.

The Fourth of July passed quietly in the Lake region and there were no fatal accidents reported in this immediate section. A little excitement was caused by a fire section will cut down the toll of the Grim Reaper.

The main topic of conversation in the Lake region these days is about the piscatorial pastime. When you meet a friend he usually greets you with "Been fishin' lately? How big was the one that got away?" Dick and Bettner are bringing their fishing contests to a close on September 1st and those who would qualify for one of the grand prizes must get busy during the remaining days of July and the month of August.

A bit of good advice from that department about fishing is that fishing is a hobby and not a business. It is a hobby and you should not expect to capture any of the fish tribe. Those few who are successful in catching a few fish are the ones who visit the Lake and not the ones who live there.

With qualifying this drawing in the Senate race? It begins to look like Claude Pepper and Doyle E. Carlton may be elected without opposition. It would be a wonderful tribute to two competent and courageous gentlemen if such a thing should happen.

Local farmers, who aren't on vacation, are busy these days repairing farming equipment and making repairs for the coming season. Much new paint is seen on farming equipment, tractors are being tuned up, plows are being put in shape and weed "runner-downers" are being sharpened for action within a few weeks.

CLEVELAND, July 9.—(Exclusive FNS Feature by Russell Kay) Drawing attendance from the most-thickly populated area in the United States, the Great Lakes Exposition opened here June 1st, and a steady stream of visitors has been attracted through the turnstiles ever since.

Visitors and courage on the part of enterprising Cleveland has transformed an unsightly city of shacks and tenements into a city of grandeur and beauty. The exposition ground. PEPPER STARTS HIS CAMPAIGN FOR U. S. SENATE

Visits East Coast Cities This Week Preparatory To Speaking Tour

TALLAHASSEE, July 9.—(FNS)—With additional announcements of possible candidates that they will not run for the unexpired term of the late Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, Claude Pepper, Tallahassee candidate, remains the only aspirant who has definitely announced for this vacancy in the United States senate.

Adding his statement to similar announcements made by Governor Sholtz, former Governor Martin, Jacksonville, Congressman Wilson, West Palm Beach, State Senator Butler, Jacksonville, Frank Williams, West Palm Beach, and other members of the United States Senate, temporary United States Senator Scott Loflin said that business reasons would make it impossible for him to run for the office. Though there are still a number of prominent Floridians who are considering the possibility of running for the office, no one has yet announced.

Assessor Owens urged that the county should be valued at $2,800,000 of property valuations affected by the present plan of the Democratic party calls for the first special primary on August 11 for nomination of candidates for both unexpired senate terms. If a runoff is required to poll a majority, as required by state law, this will be held September 1, providing the courts uphold the Democratic election plan.

His figures showed property valued at $13,739,820, but only $13,739,820 of property against which taxes are to be levied. This is $751,460 less than the $14,491,280 against which 1935 taxes were levied. The 1936 total for taxation was made up of $13,739,820 of real estate, $12,818,710 of personal property and an estimated $968,340 of railroad and telegraph properties.

Owens figures showed $2,800,000 of property valuations affected by the present plan of the Democratic party calls for the first special primary on August 11 for nomination of candidates for both unexpired senate terms. The Fourth of July passes. We can look forward to Labor day for another short vacation.

With wheat selling around $1.10 a bushel on account of the drought in midwestern states it is safe to say that the price brought will be near between now and Christmas.

With many prospective candidates for the U. S. Senate announcing that "they will not run" it begins to look like Don Carter and Claude Pepper will have easy sailing.

All these years these United States have claimed ownership of the Statue of Liberty. Twenty years after this gift from France it is disclosed that the original design remains in French archives.

The Miami Herald, in a front page editorial Tuesday afternoon, declared itself for Claude Pepper for the United States Senate. "It won't be a job," it said. "The paper and newspapers if Claude came through without opposition."

His Senator William Luther Hill. He has been named by Governor Sholtz to succeed Mr. Hill. U. S. Fletcher's place until after the November election. His hopes will be carried by a man who served as secretary to the senator for 20 years.

A defunct bank which has been in receivership for 50 years in Newark, N. J., is in a position to pay depositors a dividend. It is the case some of the present generation in Florida may have some grandchildren coming in for a bit of easy money at the turn of the next century.

Martin county game wardens are "bearing down" on those who would take fish from the waters around Ft. Loe. Claude Pepper is a fishing license. Remember this when you cross the county line and head for that favorite fishing spot. Before you purchase a license you find yourself confronted by the law.

Lake Okechobee region residents by the hundreds are on vacation. Some are visiting relatives in northern states. Others are spending time in the mountains and others are just vacationing. It is merely a matter of a few days until all will be here and will return and get set for another busy season here in the richest agricultural section in the world.

SENATORIAL TIMBER
On the eve of the fourth of July Florida will go to the polls to choose two men to represent in the most important election in the world—the United States Senate. These two men must be able, courageous, honest, with a sincerity of purpose in the service of Florida is to have its deserved representation in Washington.

The death of Senator Park Trammell before the first June primary and the death of Senator Duncan U. Fletcher before the second June primary three best seats wide open and the scramble has been happening ever since. To-day, however, aspirants for the places in the Senate have slithered down to a small number.

For the seat made vacant by the death of Trammell, Ex-Governor Doyle E. Carlton is the outstanding candidate. The ex-governor is the state's outstanding orator and has a refreshing record of honesty and sincerity. Already he knows his way around the state and his election would place him in no unfamiliar territory. His thousands of friends throughout the state are working unceasingly for his nomination in the coming primary.

With little more than a month to go Claude Pepper of Tallahassee is the leading name for the seat left by Senator Fletcher. Claude Pepper made a brilliant race against the veteran Senator Trammell and but by only a few votes hundreds of citizens of Florida today believe that Pepper received the larger number of the votes in the election but "one of those things happen" in Tallahassee and Pepper was defeated.

In Carlton and Pepper the state of Florida "will have a team of workers in the United States Senate who will have the reputation when vital issues are at stake. This pair of gentlemen will bring to Florida politics the same vigor and place in the sun to which it is entitled. If the next to impossible should happen, however, it is believed that it would be a wonderful thing if two men who to the nation are giving their time and efforts in service to a great state and its people.

COON AND THE WHALE

The story of Jonak's three-day stay in a whale's stomach arose from a mistaken translation error, according to data submitted by George M. Lamson. An expert in the Aramaic language of the time of Biblical history, Lamson argues that the original text meant to convey that Jonak was puzzled for three days, or as current American slang would phrase it, he was "in a hole" for that time.

The ethnologist has made an estimate of the number of the surviving Aramaic texts which was found in the ruins of an ancient shrine in Persia. In a translation of "Gospel Light," a religious publication, Lamson says: "Armas in the great fish, or whale, means trouble, disturbance and in the Bible, the word is used in a figurative sense, and means 'I am in a hole.'—Jacksonville Times-Union.

COIN OF THE REALM

"Clear caused the Roman money to be stamped with his likeness, thereby including it among the coins of the Caesar's." It is an ancient times, the emperor owned not only the money but all the subjects of his realm, including the coin of the subjects.

The same is true today in all the modern nations. The government has the right to stamp the coin of the realm in its own image. It is the reason that the fallen Ethiopia was given a monarchy, and so is Tibet. Sam and the Roman Empire—Palm Beach Times.

PRIMARY OPPOSITION

Are the people of the United States getting tired of the results that have been obtained by the primary method of nominating candidates for public office? This is a question that apparently is in the minds of citizens in different sections of the country, despite the fact that all but a few of the states—New Mexico, Connecticut and Rhode Island—have elected their representatives by the primary method during the last 35 years.

The American Political Science Review, in an editorial, states that the primary method has revealed a noticeable lack of interest in the primary method of selecting candidates for the approximately 7,000 public offices in the United States which are filled by primary. It is revealed, for example, that in 1932-33 half providing for out-of-state candidates, the primary method was introduced in at least 11 states, and during the last two years the number of states which introduced in several more. None of the measures was passed, however.

It is significant, nevertheless, that all but a few of the states have introduced in opposition to the primary method of choosing candidates. It is the death of the primary method is so strong that in at least one-third of the states bills have been introduced to amend or even to abolish the direct primary method of nominating candidates for public office.

Despite Communist Reports and Pickets, Passengers Agree on Better Service

"IN VIEW of continued violence and misleading attacks against the American merchant marine," says Robert Morrison, travel writer of the New York Sun, "the average reader and radio listener must believe that all vessels flying the United States flag are nothing but a lot of old tubs manned by a bunch of incompetent foreign hand-laborers, communist propaganda."

"That is in spite of the unfortunate impressions conveyed by absurd charges of strikers and communists, the Stars and Stripes today carry many fine ships which are popular with passengers of both American and foreign birth. Of such vessels the American flag is a very visible and a very important part."

"Outstanding among the fleets of the United States are the Panama Pacific's California, Virginia and Pennsylvania—each of 23,000 tons and the three of them a first-class ocean liner. The American flag is a very visible and a very important part."
